Want to Be More Involved with Your Student's School?

Parents of teenagers often bemoan the fact they don't get to be as involved in their student's school life as they were in grade school or middle school. A great opportunity to be part of the inside scoop is to volunteer with York Parents as a grade-level parent. Class Parents act as liaisons to the other parents of the grade level, rallying them for events, welcoming in new parents, and generally contributing to the warm and welcoming York atmosphere. In addition, each grade level hosts a few events during the school year, including an end-of-summer party to gather the class together before the beginning of school, and the coordination of one or two York Community events. For more information or to volunteer, please contact Joyce Sherry, Dean of Students, or Cindy Laurance, YP President for 2016-17.
